FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1818.

[No. 5252.]

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended.
Hahn's ANTIBILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual constiveness—sickness of the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,
A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, cat-arrhs, and approaching consumptions.— To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative, Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back Loss of appetite Indigestion Impurity of blood Melancholy Hysterical affection Gout in the stomach Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.
A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion, So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water, A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of nature weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.
The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

Fifty Dollars Reward.
THERE came to the stable of the

MR. PEYTON, and obtained a horse and pig on hire, as he said, to go to Elliptical Mills, and return in the afternoon of the same day; and as he has not yet returned, there is strong reason to believe that his intention is to swindle me out of my property. He is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, apparently about 25 or 30 years of age, of gentle appearance, and well calculated to deceive.
The horse is a grey, about 15 hands high, 6 or 10 years old, has a switch tail, a speck on the right eye, and moves swiftly. The pig has a green body, earrings and wheels black, the lining of blue cloth, red stuff top, linings, plated dou-

FRAGMENT.

Gone and forever! the bright dream has past,
And I am alone when help was most needed;
Oh! how could I think the enchantment would last,
Or hear the deep voice of honor un-needed.

The rose where it grew might have flourished in beauty,
And blushing gas'd on the face of the sun—
But the spoiler, forgetful of honor and duty,
Has bow'd its meek head, and its beauty is gone.

Oh fool! did you think that enjoyment once over,
She would still be the same, endearing and dear?
That you, the seducer, would still be the lover,
Or husband, or father? Oh! madness lies there.

Yes, madness! I lov'd her, and might have been blest—
And (frustrating a villain) she lov'd me too well,
And still loves me—her heart, once the purest, the best, Still trembles and loves as it did ere she fell.

But the name of a father! how could I endure
To look at my child and remember its shame—
Or remember its mother?—She was blest and pure,
But the blight of dishonor now blackens her fame.

Small the heart which has truly lov'd ever forget
The hope it has cherish'd, the bliss it ador'd?
Though in clouds of dishonor these stars may have set,
They are not extinguish'd and may be restor'd.

'Tis a phantom I know; it relentlessly haunts me—
From its presence in vain my proud spirit would fly;
No pain gives me anguish—no pleasure enchants me—
In this desolate heart there's no wish — save to die.

MOORE. DE RANCE.

HUMOUR.
A gentleman cheapening some red berring of a man, at a stall on the pavement, on being told they were two pence each, and thinking them dear, exclaimed, "Do you suppose I pick my money up in the streets?" No, sir, replied the vender, "But I do."

A quibbling writer of the last century observed, with great quaintness, that when the cannons of the princes began war, the authority of the canons of the church was destroyed. "It was," says he,
"first mitram that governed the world, and then mitram: first Saint Peter, and then Saint Peter."

A Spanish poet describing his passion, says, thinking of his mistress, he fell into a river, where the heat of his passion had such an effect on the water, that it bubbled up and boiled the fish; inasmuch that those who came to take him out, were diverted from their object by the delicacy of the fish, which were swimming about ready cooked.

Recipe for destroying flies without the use of poison.—Take a half tea spoonful of black pepper in powder, one tea spoonful of brown sugar, and one table spoonful of cream, mix them well together, and place them in the room on a plate where the flies are troublesome, and they will soon disappear.

Darkness may as well put on the nature of light, as a wicked man the name of christian.

ALEXANDRIA FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1816.

COMMUNICATION.

Few individuals have lived with so much benefit to their country, as the late Dr. Franklin. Born in obscurity, and nurtured in poverty, he rose to the greatest eminence, and at his decease left behind him a considerable property.

In giving to the world those maxims which were the foundation of his own prosperity, he has particularly shown the importance of independence—and that it is in the power of most people to become so, by making the expenditure less than the income.

In your paper of Wednesday last, you have drawn the attention of the community to the institutions for vesting savings and making them productive. They have proved of great utility, and seem particularly adapted to the principles of Franklin.

Dr. Franklin, by his last will, left a considerable property to be applied to the assistance of those artisans, to whom the advance of a small capital would enable them to carry on their pursuits to a greater advantage. When the Mechanics' Bank of this city was incorporated, the shares were fixed at ten dollars, so as to enable the industrious mechanic to vest his savings to advantage; thus in fact uniting the wisdom and the beneficence of Franklin in the plan.

But, Mr. Snowden, we have daily examples of the truth that it is one thing to propose and another thing to execute.— Can you inform the public why this pleasing feature, which was painted so fair by the originators of the institution, should now be sought for in vain—or why a stock that pays a dividend of ten per cent per annum, should sell at a discount of 15 per cent, whilst the stock of other banks, dividing only 8 per cent should sell readily at a premium of 5 per cent? Or why many industrious mechanics are debarred the use of a small capital, whilst others, not mechanics, are accommodated beyond the limits prescribed by the charter?

It is full time for the mechanics, and those who feel an interest in the prosperity of Alexandria, to turn their serious attention to this subject. There is sufficient intelligence, property and probity in this useful class of the community, to manage the concerns better—to support the institution effectually, and obtain the PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

sachusetts; and PRENTISS MALLIN is sioned.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR OFFICE.

A newspaper in the interior of Pennsylvania, contains an advertisement of John Sweeney, in which he offers himself as a candidate for the office of sheriff, of the county of Adams; he says, "I have obtained an exclusive right from the president of the United States, for an improvement on the washing machine. If I am elected, this I give to the county of Adams, for every one to make, use, and sell, as they may see proper—I ask for this your votes, J. S." [Box. D. d.]

CONNECTICUT CONVENTION.

The legislature of Connecticut, at the session which closed on the 6th instant, passed a resolution "recommending to the several towns in that state to meet on the 4th day of July next, to elect as many delegates as they now send representatives to a convention in the city of Hartford, on the third Wednesday in August, for the purpose of forming a constitution of civil government for that state—which constitution when ratified by such a majority of the freemen as said convention shall direct, is to become the supreme law of the state."

RAIL STORM.

A severe hail storm was experienced on Sunday afternoon in Montgomery co. between the Court House and Clarkburg. We are informed it approached from the south-east, and was accompanied by a confused and rumbling noise.
Fortunately it did not drive much, or the mischief must have been very great, as some of the hail measured 14 inches in circumference; and a large hog was seen to fall dead from receiving one, falling with little more than its own gravity, on his head; and the backs of the cattle were so lacerated as to cause the blood to run down their sides. The largest had the appearance of cakes of ice broken from a large body—generally they were of the size of a goose egg, and of a conical form. Some farmers have had the brightest prospects blighted in seeing their towering fields of grain, which promised so abundantly to reward their long labors, laid prostrate to the earth

MAIL ROBBERY.

United States vs. William Wood.—After the conviction in this case the prisoner's counsel moved the Court to arrest the judgment, on the ground, among others, of an error in the caption of the indictment, which states the Court of the United States for the Pennsylvania District, whereas, as was argued, since the passage of the late act of Congress, dated the 20th of April, 1816, for dividing the state of Pennsylvania into two judicial districts, there is no district of Pennsylvania, but Eastern and Western Districts of Pennsylvania. The court overruled this objection, but determined that as the offence charged did not appear by the indictment to have been committed in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, there was no judicial evidence of the perpetration of the offence within the jurisdiction of the Circuit Court for the Eastern District, and consequently that, by this reason, the judgment must be arrested. The prisoner was then recommended for further prosecution.—3d Gaz.

The following letter from our attentive correspondent at St. Thomas, gives the latest advices from the Spanish colonies.
The accounts from South America and many manufactured here on the same subject, are so contradictory that it is with much difficulty we are able to keep pace with the armies of the patriots or royalists, or to ascertain which of their commanders are dead or alive. It seems from the following that MORILLO is not dead but recovered. If the royalists have got possession of the pass of Calabosa, the patriots have certainly been defeated and retreated. [Dem. Press.]

From our correspondent.

"St. Thomas, 26th May, 1816.
"We have the official news here from Caracas that another battle has been fought on the 11th inst. about 20 leagues west, from San Carlos—in which both parties seem to have fought with desperation. The Spaniards say that the pa-triotists are defeated, but acknowledge the loss of many first rate officers. The commander in chief of the royal army engaged, De la Torre, is severely wounded, and his aid de camp col. Villars—and about 20 officers killed and wounded. It is said the pass Calabosa, is again in the hands of the royalists. The royal commander in chief Morillo has recovered from his wounds. Enclosed are two newspapers under date of the 18th and 21st May."

"Brion and Aury have formed a junction near St. Bartholomew, at what is called the Five Islands; they have now 15 sail. Just as Brion got under way, a Spanish escadre (squadron) hove in sight, and after both had manœuvred a little they went each their way in a different direction. It is said that Brion will fortify the island of Mona for a kind of rendevous, and take possession of Samana if possible."

Charleston, June 5.

LATEST FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

Capt. Spilman of the schooner Emily, who arrived at Georgetown, S. C. on Saturday from Bonire, says, it was reported at Curacao on the 1st of May, that Geo.
Aury with his patriot army took up the line of March from Samana for the city of St. Domingo, on the 27th of April last; and that it was generally believed he would succeed in subduing that well fortified post of the royalists, as the people were much disaffected. It was said that at least one half of the population would flock to Aury's army, and that a general massacre of the royalists would be the consequence.

While captain S. lay at Curacao, one of Aury's privateers took a very valuable Dutch schooner in sight of that place, and after plundering the crew, put them ashore on the island of Bonire. The vessel was supposed to be ordered for Samana.

The report of the death of Christophe is entirely without foundation—captain S. having heard nothing of such an event until his arrival at this place. Paton paid the debt of nature in April last.

Captain S. further informs, that Geo.
Aury (from Amelia) had made Samana a place of deposit; that he (Aury) was engaged with two merchants at St. Thomas who vend at that place all cargoes pillaged from vessels, and carried to them by way of Samana.

you approach the Palawan coast, having 5, 6 and 7 fathoms only. From the lat. of 10 to 12, N. to the Westward of 117 30, E. we are at present unacquainted of there being any danger. This is all the information I can give you worth of your notice. And notwithstanding some ships have gone without these limits, I would advise you to keep within them, for you will scarcely credit the innumerable small patches (many even with the water's edge) that line the coast of Palawan, and the lead giving little or no warning.

"THE OLDER TIME."

The M. S. of the following interesting letter was politely forwarded to us by a gentleman of Baltimore, and was found among some old papers of a distinguished lady of Philadelphia.—It is a copy of a letter from a lady of Philadelphia to a British officer at Boston, written immediately after the battle of Lexington, and previous to the Declaration of Independence.—It fully exhibits the feelings of those times. A finer spirit never animated the breasts of the Roman Matrons, than the following letter breathes:— [Richmond Inquirer.]

SIR—We received a letter from you wherein you let Mr. S. know that you had written after the battle of Lexington, particularly to me—knowing my martial spirit—that I would delight to read the exploits of heroes. Surely, my friend, you must mean the New England heroes, as they alone performed exploits worthy fame—while the regulars, vastly superior in numbers, were obliged to retreat with a rapidity unequalled, except by the French at the battle of Mifflin. Indeed General Gage gives them their due praise in his letter home; where he says Lord Percy was remarkable for his activity.
You will not, I hope, take offence at my expression that in the warmth of my heart should escape me, when I assure you, that though we consider you as a public enemy, we regard you as a private friend; and while we detest the cause you are fighting for, we wish well to your own personal interest and safety. Thus far by way of apology. As to the martial spirit you suppose me to possess, you are greatly mistaken. I tremble at the thoughts of war; but of all wars, a civil one; our all is at stake; and we are called upon by every tie that is dear and sacred to exert the spirit that heaven has given to us in this righteous struggle for liberty.

I will tell you what I have done. My only brother I have sent to the camp with my prayers and blessings; I hope he will not disgrace me; I am confident he will behave with honor, and emulate the great examples he has before him, and had I twenty sons and brothers they should go.
I have retrenched every superfluous expense in my table and family; tea I have not drank since last Christmas, nor bought a new cap or gown since your defeat at Lexington; and what I never did before, have learnt to knit, and am now making stockings of American wool for my servants, and this way do I throw in my mite to the public good. I know this, that as free I can die but once, but as a slave I shall not be worthy of life. I have the pleasure to assure you that these are the sentiments of all my sister Americans. They have sacrificed both as-semblies, parties of pleasure, tea drinking and finery to that great spirit of patriotism, that actuates all ranks and degrees of people throughout this extensive continent. If these are the sentiments of females, what must glow in the breasts of our husbands, brothers and sons.— They are as with one heart determined to die or be free. It is not a quibble in politics, a science which few understand, which we are contending for; it is this plain truth, which the most ignorant people know; and is clear to the weakest capacity, that no man has a right to take their money without their consent. The supposition is ridiculous and absurd, as none but highwaymen and robbers attempt.—Can you, my friend, reconcile it with your own good sense, that a body of men in Great Britain who have little intercourse with America, and of course know nothing of us, nor are supposed to see or feel the misery they would inflict upon us, shall invest themselves with a power to command our lives and properties, at all times and in all cases whatsoever? You say you are no politician—O sir, it requires no machiavelian head to develop this, and to discover this tyranny and oppression. It is written with a sun-beam. Every one will see and know it because it will make them feel, and we shall be unworthy of the blessings of Heaven, if we ever submit to it.

All ranks of men amongst us are in arms. Nothing is heard now in our streets but the trumpet and drum; and the universal cry is "Americans to arms" All your friends are officers; there are captain S. D. lieutenant B. and captain J. S. We have five regiments in the city and county of Philadelphia, complete in arms and uniform, and very expert in their military manœuvres. We have companies of light horse, light infantry, grenadiers, riflemen, and Indians, several companies of artillery, and some excellent brass cannon and field pieces: Add to this, that every county in Pennsylvania and the Delaware can send two thousand men to the field. Heaven seems to smile on us, for in the memory of man never were known such quantities of flour, and sheep without number. We are making powder fast, and do not want for ammunition. In short, we want for nothing but ships of war to defend us, which we could procure by making alliances; but such is our attachment to Great Britain, that we sincerely wish for reconciliation, and cannot bear the thoughts of throwing off all dependence on her, which such a step would assuredly lead to. The God of mercy will, I hope, open the eyes of our King, that he may see, while in seeking our destruction, he will go near to complete his own. It is my ardent prayer that the effusion of blood may be stopped. We hope yet to see you in this city, a friend to the liberties of America, which will give infinite satisfaction to Your sincere friend, C. S.

To Captain S. in Boston.

A still more wonderful story.—
The following case surpasses any thing which has been believed of Miss M. Avey, of Liverpool, by her warmest supporters.
It will interest such of our readers as take pleasure in attending to these wonderful productions of nature or art. Of the last mentioned young lady, we are sorry to learn that she still continues in a state of hopeless indisposition, and that even the suspended ex-citability of the public, become at length weary of the controversy, has failed to relieve her.

EXTRAORDINARY WOMAN.

The Paris papers recount prodigies of a woman in the neighbourhood of Lyons.
The circumstances of her case have confounded the philosophers and let her no credit with men unaccustomed to scientific reasoning. Learning hesitates because it wants principles to explain—ignorance decides at once, because it knows not the variety of undiscovered principles which exist.

The case of this woman is, that of a confusion of all senses—of seeing, smelling, hearing, touching, tasting. The quality of one sense seems transferred to another; there is a kind of organic confusion and substitution—the eyes do duty for the ears, the taste for the eyes, and the touch for the taste.

A very learned physician, a writer in the Journal de Santé, gives an account of having visited this woman at Lyons:— To believe in impossibilities, he says, is often the necessity of men of science; but it is their good fortune likewise to discover that the world contains many more miracles than is first imagined, and that nothing is impossible as referred to the omnipotence of the deity, and that impossibilities are much rather in the combination of human life than the vanity of science will acknowledge.

This woman whom I visited, and to whom I presented several sorts of medicines, powders, simples, compounds, and many other substances, which I am convinced she never saw before, told me their several tastes, as nearly, and with as much precision, as taste could pronounce. She described them with astonishing exactness, and frequently when my own palate was confounded.
Her eyes were next bound with a thick bandage, and I drew from my pocket several sorts of silk ribbons. All those that differed from the original color she immediately told me. It was in vain to attempt to puzzle her; she made no mistake; she passed the ribbon merely thro' her hand and immediately decided on its peculiar color. She could in fact discover the quality of any thing by the touch or taste, as accurately as I could do with my eyes.

The organs of hearing were closed as well as the contrivance of stuffing the ears would answer the purpose. I then commenced a conversation with a friend in the apartment, and spoke in an almost inaudible whisper. She repeated with great power of memory, every word of the conversation. In short, I came away a convert, in other words I believed what I had seen. A philosopher knows the fallibility of the senses; but he should know likewise that science ought not to reject because it cannot have demonstration.

Heaven seems to smile on us, for in the memory of man never were known such quantities of flax, and sheep without number. We are making powder fast, and do not want for ammunition. In short, we want for nothing but ships of war to defend us, which we could procure by making alliances; but such is our attachment to Great Britain, that we sincerely wish for reconciliation, and cannot bear the thoughts of throwing off all dependence on her, which such a step would assuredly lead to. The God of mercy will, I hope, open the eyes of our King, that he may see, while in seeking our destruction, he will go near to complete his own. It is my ardent prayer that the effusion of blood may be stopped. We hope yet to see you in this city, a friend to the liberties of America, which will give infinite satisfaction to your sincere friend, C. S.

FROM A LONDON PAPER.

A still more wonderful Miss M. Avey.—The following case surpasses any thing which has been believed of Miss M. Avey, of Liverpool, by her warmest supporters. It will interest such of our readers as take pleasure in attending to these wonderful productions of nature or art. Of the last mentioned young lady, we are sorry to learn that she still continues in a state of hopeless indisposition, and that even the suspended civility of the public, become at length weary of the controversy, has failed to relieve her.

The Paris papers recount prodigies of a woman in the neighbourhood of Lyons. The circumstances of her case have confounded the philosophers and let her no credit with men unaccustomed to scientific reasoning. Learning hesitates because it wants principles to explain—ignorance decides at once, because it knows not the variety of undiscovered principles which exist.

The case of this woman is, that of a confusion of all senses—of seeing, smelling, hearing, touching, tasting. The quality of one sense seems transferred to another; there is a kind of organic confusion and substitution—the eyes do duty for the ears, the taste for the eyes, and the touch for the taste.

A very learned physician, a writer in the Journal de Santé, gives an account of having visited this woman at Lyons.

To believe in impossibilities, he says, is often the necessity of men of science; but it is their good fortune likewise to discover that the world contains many more miracles than is first imagined, and that nothing is impossible as referred to the omnipotence of the deity, and that impossibilities are much rather in the combination of human life than the vanity of science will acknowledge.

This woman whom I visited, and to whom I presented several sorts of medicines, powders, simples, compounds, and many other substances, which I am convinced she never saw before, told me their several tastes, as nearly, and with as much precision as taste could pronounce. She described them with astonishing exactness, and frequently when my own palate was confounded.

Her eyes were next bound with a thick bandage, and I drew from my pocket several sorts of silk ribbons. All those that differed from the original color she immediately told me. It was in vain to attempt to puzzle her; she made no mistake; she passed the ribbon merely through her hand and immediately decided on its peculiar color. She could in fact discover the quality of any thing by the touch or taste, as accurately as I could do with my eyes.

The organs of hearing were closed as well as the contrivance of stuffing the ears would answer the purpose. I then commenced a conversation with a friend in the apartment, and spoke in an almost inaudible whisper. She repeated with great power of memory, every word of the conversation. In short, I came away a convert, in other words I believed what I had seen. A philosopher knows the fallibility of the senses; but he should know likewise that science ought not to reject because it cannot have demonstration.

Fan-Sash Making METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufacture in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by Builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expense in preparing the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.
Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as if in town.

For Sale.
A VALUABLE FARM, containing between six and seven hundred acres of land, the greater part of which is in timber, and adjoins the land of Charles Thift and Edmond J. Lee, esq., and extends to the road from Leesburg to the mill lately known as Miller's Mill, on Goose Creek, and not more than three quarters of a mile from the turnpike road now making. The forest boundary of this land is not more than three miles from Leesburg, and the nearest, which is in timber, not more than one mile and a half. The timbered land will be laid off into 10 or 15 acre lots, reserving a sufficient quantity for the land now cleared and in cultivation. It is unnecessary to say that this land is as well adapted to raise as any in that part of the country; and if not sold at private sale previous to the September Leesburg court, will be then offered at public sale, and the terms made known on the day.
There are fifteen or twenty negroes residing on the farm that may be purchased with it if wanted.

Bath House.
THE subscriber respectfully informs the public, that his Bath House is now and will remain in complete operation until the 15th inst. at which time should a sufficient number of subscribers be obtained, it will be continued during the season, otherwise he will be under the necessity of closing it on that day. The experience of former years, he trusts, will be a satisfactory apology for so doing, as without sufficient patronage to meet the expenses thereof, he cannot continue the bath house without incurring certain loss. Absconded.
ON the night of the 16th inst. my negro man JOHN, or JOHN ALLEN, (as he calls himself)—he is well known, having lived with me for several years, and has travelled a good deal with me. He is a very plausible fellow, about 30 years of age, slender made, and about 5 feet 5 inches high, rather of a yellow complexion, but the complete negro mouth and nose—has a small scar on one of his cheeks—has lately had a sore on his right leg, directly on the shin bone, which leg has the appearance of being much scored at a former period by disease or the small pox. His hat was made and stamped by Rogers of Baltimore. A reward of 10 dollars will be given if taken in the town or county of Alexandria, 20 if in the county of Washington or Fairfax, 50 if in Baltimore or state of Maryland, and 100 if in Philadelphia or the state of Pennsylvania, and in like proportion if at any other places, with all reasonable charges for bringing him here and securing him in jail.
May 18 JAMES SANDERSON.

James Kennedy & Son, RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE'S MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES: Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges. Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mild est purgative that can be used on any occasion.
Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known. Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Tere or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucubitus or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.
Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.
Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.
Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.
The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West India and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.
Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a course of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.
